

The discussion herein is general in nature and may not apply to all individuals. Prospective donors are urged to consult their personal tax and financial advisors concerning the specific consequences of making gifts to Brooks School. We would be pleased to discuss, in confidence, ways in which you may support Brooks School. These measures may also have an impact on your estate planning.