Bring Me A Dream

December 3, 2024 through January 25, 2025

Reception: January 10 from 6 to 8 p.m.

This photographic exploration navigates the profound impact of Alzheimer's disease on my family, addressing questions about memory loss and its repercussions on identity, heritage and the human experience. I documented my final interactions with my paternal grandparents, who passed away within a year of each other, and the intimate moments of caregiving and connection. Today, I photograph their absence, the emptying and selling of their home, and the next generation of our family. I wonder about the future and whether our genes carry the same fate. Bring Me A Dream is both a keepsake and a call to action.
