JOREY HURLEY P'27, P'28

January 1 — January 26 2026

Artist Reception: January 9 from 6 to 8 p.m.

Artist Statement: My work is a visual memory of domestic life. Through color and pattern, I celebrate the daily activities of home life, as I know it, capturing moments before they slip away. I use abstraction to distill these moments into forms that feel both personal and universal. Far from past portrayals of isolated domesticity, my artwork illustrates the connections that we have to our kids and the nature woven into our neighborhoods.

I choose multiples as my preferred form of expression because I believe that the value of art stems from the feelings that it leaves in others. This belief has allowed me to reach thousands of people through my fine art prints and illustrated children's books (published by Simon & Schuster).

Born and raised in California, my most recent work focuses on coastal life in Massachusetts, where I am also working on a new line of home textile products. I make art to connect through the shared experience of home. joreyhurley.com
